WATER TREATMENT

GEFION

The old famous fountain Gefion, situated in front of the castle Amalienborg, the residence of the Danish Queen, was refurbished, with new water treatment .

A project, where the old fountain and the copper sculpture had been without water for many years. The day of re-opening, with roaring waters, water dust in the noses of the bulls and impressive lights, was a day of celebration.

Aqua-Teknik has delivered an extensive water treatment system, with filtration from drumband filters to UV-radiation, to secure water quality and optimal function, with the old jets.

Aqua-Teknik also installed new water-jets in copper.
